Put On Your Bridal Veil.

Song and Chorus.

Sung in

Edward Harrigan's New Play,

THE LEATHER PATCH.

Words by EDWARD HARRIGAN. Music by DAVE BRAHAM.

NEW YORK:

Published by WM. A. POND & CO., 23 Union Square.

Copyright, 1886, by Wm. A. Pond & Co.
PUT ON YOUR BRIDAL VEIL.

SONG AND CHORUS.

As sung in Edward Harrigan's New Play, "THE LEATHER PATCH."

WORDS BY EDWARD HARRIGAN. MUSIC BY DAVE BRAHAM.

1. The bells dey am a-ring-ing, chim-ing, swing-ing—Hail! welcome to the bride-groom, hail!
2. The bride she am a-blush-ing, gush-ing, flush-ing—Hail! welcome to the bride-groom, hail!
3. The bells dey am a-chim-ing, rhym-ing, Hy-men—Hail! welcome to the bride-groom, hail!

De choir dey am a-sing-ing, music fling-ing—
Dere's li-lies wid de ros-es, pinks, and po-sies—
The preach-er am a-pray-ing, music play-ing—
Love, go put on your bridal veil; The bride's name's Nanny and she's Love, go put on your bridal veil; Indeed she's happy wid her Love, go put on your bridal veil; Oh, she's got re-lig-on like a just left mam-my for to go put on her snow white veil. Oh, ma-and papy as she's put-ting on her snow white veil. Oh, fan-tail'd pig-eon for to go put on her snow white veil. Oh, shout, oh, shout the old year out— Hail to the bride-groom, hail!

shout, oh, shout the old year out— Hail to the bride-groom, hail!
shout, oh, shout the old year out— Hail to the bride-groom, hail!

11,998—3.
Love, put on your orange blossoms, Love, put on your long white trail;

Love, sweet wedding chimes are pealing, Love, put on your bridal veil.