When the Children Say Good-night.

Song and Chorus by E. Holst.

Introduction.
Moderato.

1. When the setting sun is gilding,
   All the cloudlets in the west,
   And the weary world is sinking,
   Round the cottage eaves the swallows,

2. Gaudy butterflies are sleeping,
   In the roses crimson heart,
   Really one of the Brightest Instrumental Hits Published.
Softly, softly down to rest,
Cease at length to wheel and dart.

Then the tall white lily
Daisies hide their eyes so

Bending,
Golden,

Folds her petals purely bright,
In their pink-tipped petals white,

And the birds their nests are seeking, When the children say, "Good-night."
And the stars their lamps are lighting, When the children say, "Good-night."

When the children say good-night. 3-4.

THE GREATEST YET—An Immediate Success.

"Don't Tell Her That You Love Her."
Another Popular Song by PAUL DRESSER,
Author of "JUST TELL THEM THAT YOU SAW ME."
CHORUS.

Good-night ma-ma, Good-night pa-pa,

Then the eye-lids close so gent-ly, In the fading light, Goodnight, ma-ma, Good-night, pa-pa, And the angels watch are keep-ing, When the chil-dren say Good-night.

When the children say good night. 5–5.

THE HONEY BOY’S LAMENT.

"AIN’T I YOUR HONEY BOY NO MORE?"

Another Success by GUSSIE L. DAVIS.
