Allegro Moderato:

'Twas on the twenty-first of June, in charming summer weather, when

HARRY told his tender boon that we might live to gather, 'tis on the twenty first of June, in charming summer weather, when HARRY told his tender boon that Th'o'ft our friends have frowning said

And call'd it sense and reason,
'Twas time enough as yet to wed
At any future Season;
But HARRY vow'd it should be soon
And own'd too long we'd tarried,
Then fix'd the twenty first of June,
The day that we were married.

O sweetest day, &c.

Three years have pass'd in mutual bliss,
So maidens do not tarry,
A single life is sure amiss,
So I advise to marry;
For was the time to come again,
To Church I would be carried,
And truly bless the happy day,
The day that we were married.

O sweetest day, &c.
