THE STORY OF THE ROSARY

WORDS BY LOU KLEIN

MUSIC BY JAMES KENDIS

BASED ON THE NEW ROMANTIC MELODRAMA OF THE SAME NAME
BY WALTER HOWARD
AND USED BY PERMISSION OF COMSTOCK AND GEST OWNERS

MAURICE RICHMOND MUSIC CO., INC.
145 WEST 45TH ST., NEW YORK CITY
The Story Of The Rosary.

Words by Lou Klein.

Music by James Kendis.

Valse Lento.

Piano.

Voice.

You gave to me a ros-a-ry Before you said "good-bye."
The hours I spent with thee dear heart Each night came back to me.

A to-ken of your love for me That was your part-ing
As I gazed on each bead a-part I heard the ros-a-sigh I held it dear-er than the world Each bead was My pray'rs have all been an-swered now my sor-rows

Copyright MCMXIV by Maurice Richmond Music Co. Inc. 145 W. 45th St., N.Y.
International Copyright Secured. All Rights Reserved.
The Publishers reserve the right to the use of this Copyrighted Work upon the parts of Instruments serving to reproduce it Mechanically.
pure as gold, but now to-day that ros-a-ry banished too, the day has come when you and I will

Andante.

story can unfold, my ros-a-ry, my ros-a-ry.
live our life anew, my ros-a-ry, my ros-a-ry.

Chorus.

Valse Lento.

For e-v-ry bead I shed a tear each tear caused on-ly pain, my heart with an-guish cried for you my

The Story etc. 3
prayers seemed all in vain—
For every bead I'd count a day I thought you lost to me—

As I

Maestoso.

counted the last. You came from the past—That's the story of the rosary.