

* BEE'S WINGS & FISH,

A Humorous Glee

IN Three Parts

Composed by

DIELMAN.

Baltimore, Pub.^d by Geo. Willig, Junr.

This Glee was Composed at the Fish House opposite the City of Baltimore kept by F. Reglin, while the Company were enjoying the above named beverage.

SPIRITOSO.

DEACON.

PRIMO. CUCKOO. Come, boys, and let us sing, In praise of old friend Fritz; We'll

SECONDO. PAP. Come, boys, and let us sing, In praise of old friend Fritz; We'll

BASS. Come, boys, and let us sing, In praise of old friend Fritz; We'll

PIANO.

call for a dish of fine fat fish, And with Bee's wings brighten our wits, our wits, And with

call for a dish of fine fat fish, And with Bee's wings brighten our wits, our wits, And with

call for a dish of fine fat fish, And with Bee's wings brighten our wits, our wits, And with

Bee's wings brighten our wits, And with Bee's wings brighten our wits.

Bee's wings brighten our wits, And with Bee's wings brighten our wits.

Bee's wings brighten our wits, And with Bee's wings brighten our wits.

Bee's wings and fish, Bee's wings and fish, We'll

Bee's wings and fish, Bee's wings and fish, We'll

Bee's wings and fish, and fish, Bee's wings and fish, and fish, We'll

Bee's wings and fish, and fish, Bee's wings and fish, and fish, We'll

a tempo

all join in with friend Reglien, And try Bee's wings and fish.

all join in with friend Reglien, And try Bee's wings and fish.

all join in with friend Reglien, And try Bee's wings and fish.

2.

Aint he a merry host?
 He has crabs— well what of that;
 Let's pass out the word for a dish of hard,
 While the soft are frying in fat, in fat,
 While the soft are frying in fat.
 Bee's wings and crabs &c.

3.

Fritz sings a merry song,
 When ever he gets blue;
 When hungry he feels, he traps some eels,
 And they slip down his throat in a stew, a stew,
 And they slip down his throat in a stew.
 Bee's wings and eels &c.

* In repeating the word "fish" &c. the several additions as "fried" "hard" &c. are to be applied in a humorous way.