Dance and Grow Thin
CHARLES DILLINGHAM and FLORENZ ZIEGFELD, Jr.
PRESIDENT
Dance and grow thin
At the
COCOAUNUT GROVE
On Top Of the CENTURY THEATRE

WATSON
BERLIN
SNYDER CO.
Music Publishers
New York
Dance And Grow Thin.

Lyric by IRVING BERLIN.

Music by
GEO. W. MEYER.

Allegro Moderato.

Some folk's Throw your

Till ready.

who are stout,
Wor - ry,
there's no doubt;

diet book,
In the nearest brook,

Copyright MCMXVII by Waterson Berlin & Snyder Co., Strand Theatre Bldg., Eway, N.Y.
Copyright Canada MCMXVII by Waterson Berlin & Snyder Co. International Copyright Secured.
Doctors come and shout; "Cut your Fox trot eating out?"
Chase that weary look, with your cook; Starving is abuse,

At that double chin, Really,
There is no excuse, You can

It's a sin, They could all be thin.
all reduce Your --- well, what's the use!

6S2-4
Chorus.

It's very simple if you care to try it;

A million people are reducing by it,

You needn't bother 'bout a silly diet;

Try a One-Step or a Fox Trot.
Go right a-head and eat a great big lunch-eon;
I guar-an-tee that you will soon have one__chin,
In stead of two or three, Just take a tip from me;
Dance-and grow thin._ thin._