Some want peace and Tho' our parents

notes they will write for it, Others want it so bad they'll fight for it, may come from different lands, We're here now so we may as well join hands,

Peace at any price, May be good advice, But our Forefathers Wives and sweetheart true, Our dear mothers too, May need protection thought a different way, from the foe some day,

Just remember you're an American,
We want battle ships that can rule the foam,

Don't forget that they were the very men,
Guns and aeroplanes to protect our home,

And who gladly died, To put us where we are today.
That Miss Liberty, has come to Yankee Land to stay.
