THE BANNER OF BLUE.

Jacoby Thurston.

Leon Levoy.

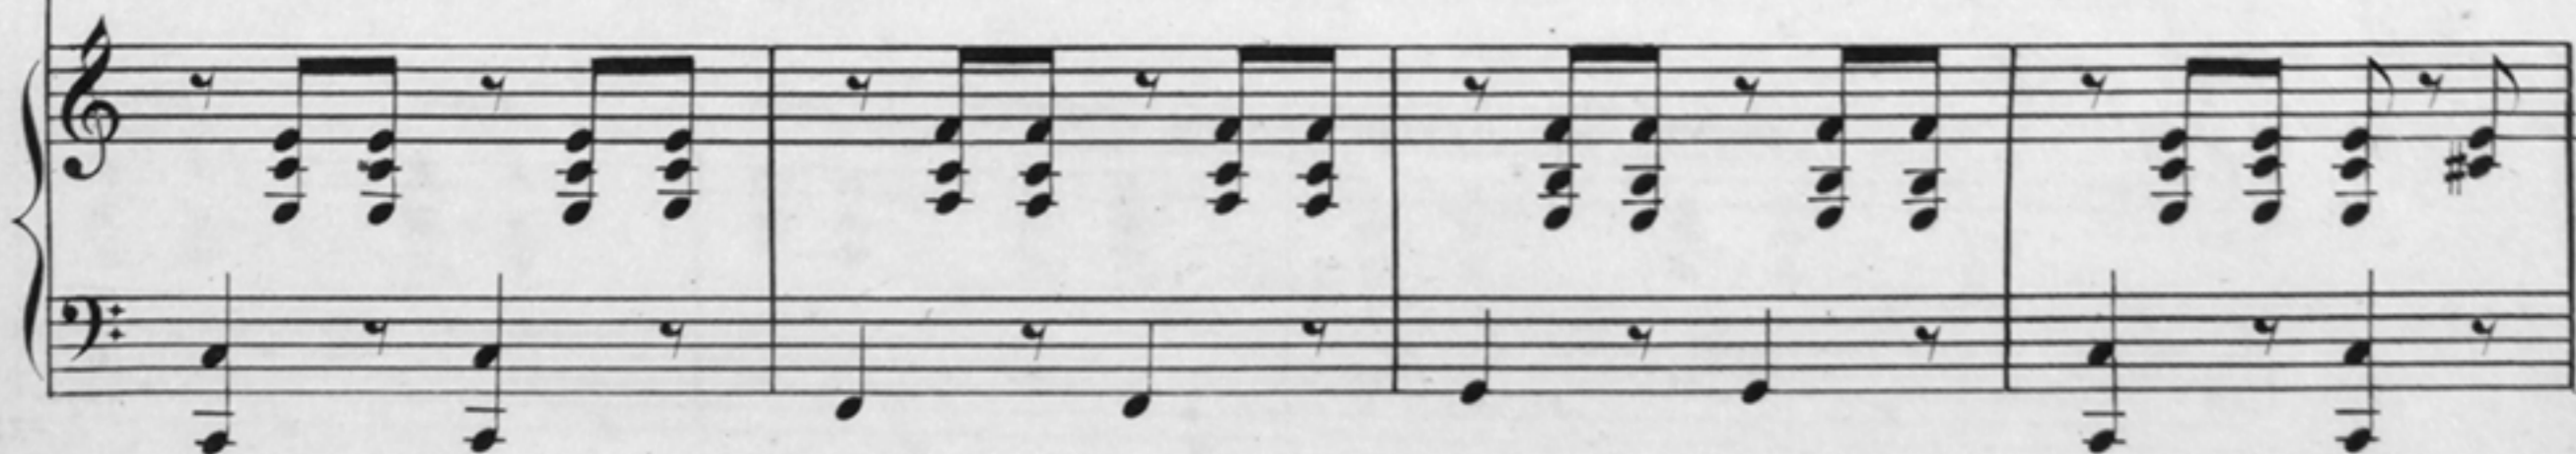

Allegro Moderato.

1. Un - furl the glorious banner, That beams with heaven's blue...., And
 2. As raged the plague in Egypt, When, like a furnace breath.., O'er
 3. Till from the pris - ons' portals, By wo - man's prayers re - claimed.., Came let it wave o'er land and sea, That all the world may view. A - darkened fields of Pha - ra - oh, Hot blew the blast of death; So Murphy, like the guiding star To east-ern Sages famed. Then

- round our glorious emblem Un - daunt - ed we will stand, Un - raged the thirst for liquor, More parch - ing did it grow, And hail the glorious Cheiftain, True to his colors stand, Un -

- til the foe of hu - man - kind Is driven from the land o'er the land the cries a - rose Of suf - er - ing and woe
 - til his glorious ban - ner floats O'er ev - 'ry sea and land

CHORUS.

Soprano: Un - furl the glorious banner - And 'neath its folds stand
Alto: Un - furl the glorious banner - And 'neath its folds stand
Tenor: Un - furl the glorious banner - And 'neath its folds stand
Bass: Un - furl the glorious banner - And 'neath its folds stand

Piano:

true . . , And let it wave o'er land and sea, The ban - ner of the blue . . .

true . . , And let it wave o'er land and sea, The ban - ner of the blue . . .

Come, join against the Serpent
 That haunts the vale of life,
 The prompter of red-handed crime,
 Of discord and of strife;
 That robs the heart's best treasures—
 Brings tears to many a cheek,
 And adds a thousand woes to life,
 And pangs no tongue can speak.

5.

Then join the tem'rance movement—
 The Murphy - Reynolds band,
 And drive the curse of humankind
 Forever from the land;
 Swear to uphold their banner
 And strike when e'er you can,
 Until the demon's sinful cup
 No more degrades the man.
