

KATE CASTLETON'S LATEST SUCCESS.

Excuse Me I'll Tell You No More

WORDS & MUSIC BY John D. Gilbert.

4.

PUBLISHED BY THE JOHN CHURCH CO., CINCINNATI, O.

THE RIGHT OF STAGE PERFORMANCE OF THIS SONG IS RESERVED BY MISS KATE CASTLETON.

EXCUSE ME, I'LL TELL YOU NO MORE.

Words and Music by John D. Gilbert.

Arranged by Frank Pallma.

Tempo di Valse.

f

rall. p solo for cello.

1. The house be - ing qui - et, the pa - tient the
 2. The dear lit - tle la - dies, you say bless their same, I think I shall war - ble a song..... The hearts, They want to be up to the times..... But the ti - tle is - well, you must give it a name, To mean much it meth-ods they use and the tricks they em - ploy, Well it wont do to need'nt be long..... My bash - ful-ness makes me so men-tion in rhymes..... They'll stop at the cross - ings and tim - id at times, I feel I could sink through the floor.....

lift up their skirts, Slyly gaze at the op - po - site shore.....

----- But a glance in your eyes, make's a flut - ter - ing here, So ex-
 ----- There's a glance at her boots from the gent on the curb, And, ex-

pp

a tempo.

cuse me - I'll tell you no more.....
 cuse me - I'll tell you no more.....

f rit.

3.

For pleasure some eve to the play you will go,
 Perhaps it's a tragedy queen,
 And you'll strain your poor neck, 'till its all out of joint,
 Just to get a slight glimpse of the scene.
 There's a lady in front with a sweet little hat
 That would fill out a packing house door,
 Which you try to look over, and utter such words
 As - excuse me, I'll tell you no more.

4.

The men want the ladies to sit without hats,
 For they say they prevent a good view,
 They're not satisfied with possessing the earth,
 They want all the theaters too.
 She doesn't complain when her dress is all soiled
 And her feet nearly tramped through the floor -
 By the man who goes out - between ev'ry act -
 For - excuse me - I'll tell you no more.