1 Look up Cu - ba! why are you weep - ing? Why are you griev - ing 2 Long have you tried vain - ly to sun - der, Cold cru - el links of 3 No - bly you fight ev - er re - sist - ing, Task - mas - ter Spain who day af - ter day? Jus - tice may seem so si - lent - ly sleep - ing and slav - er - y's chain, Bind - ing you tight - ly a poor cap - tive un - der the spares not to slay, Led by a He - ro ev - er per - sist - ing and turn a deaf ear un- to you when you pray, Cu - ba! cheer up! and look mer-ci-less rule of your harsh mas - ter Spain, He - roes who loved you, who striv-ing for free-dom till he passed a - way, Our Mot - to's fair play, and tho'

for - ward with plea-sure, Soon will your sor - rows van - ish a - far, fought bled and per-ished, Striv - ing to free you day af - ter day, Spain may raid you, You'll share the free - dom we now en-joy,

For in Old Glory's star-ry gemmed a-zure There's room for one more star. } There's Soon will their dream th'o' weary years cherish'd Come true and your chains fall a-way. }
And with the help of the Jour-nal we'll aid you, Dear Cu-ba, Spain's rule to de-destroy.

room for one more star, — And Cu - ba you'll find you are, —

Destined by fate to be with us, and Spain will prove no bar, —

Rise in your might and fight; — Cu ba your cause is right — And Un - cle Sam says re - mem - ber There's room for one more star. —
