Ev - 'ry one had to do — as Wil - lie would tell them to — when he came home from Yale — the vil - lag - ers all were pale —

He was the can - dy boy be - hind the gun —
 Wil - lie was not the lit - tle lamb who went —

All of the kids in town would have to do as Wil - lie said,
 All he had learned at col - lege was to be a howl - ing swell,

If they were play - ing sol - diers Wil - lie had to march a - head, — For How to in - hale the cig - a - rettes and ring the wait - ers bell, — For

Wil - lie would nev - er play — un - less he could have his way — So Wil - lie could make more noise — than all of the oth - er boys —

ev - 'ry one called him Cap - tain Wil - lie Brown. —
 When it was time to give the col - lege yell. —

John - ny Jones and Wil - lie Green, And all the boys in town,
 John - ny Jones and Wil - lie Green, And all the boys in Yale,

Al - ways had to fall in line, for Cap - tain Wil - lie Brown.
 Al - ways used to fol - low on, when Wil - lie hit the trail.

Chorus.
