

(ON WI' THE TARTAN.)
A Scottish Song
Sung by Mr. Williamson, Composed by
CHARLES H. PURDAY.

New York, Published by FIRTH, POND & C^o. Franklin Sq.

Allegretto con Spirito.

8^{va}

8^{va}

f stac.

Do you like bonnie Lassie the hills wild and free, Where the p

song of the Shepherd gars a' ring wi' glee; Or the steep rocky glens Where the f p

1155

wild Falcons bide? Then on wi' the Tartan and fy let us ride,-

On wi' the Tartan, On wi' the Tartan, Then on wi' the Tartan, and fy let us ride.

2

Do ye like the burn Lassie that loup amang linn,
 Or the sunny green banks where it leisurely rins;
 Wi' a cantie bit housie duilt snug by its side?
 Then on wi' the Tartan, and fy let us ride.

3

Do ye like the plains Lassie that neer were in riggs,
 Or the bonnie deep vales where the sweet Robin biggs,
 Or the song of the Linnet when wooing his bride,
 Then on wi' the Tartan, and fy let us ride.