How to close the War.

WRITTEN BY GEORGE P. HARDWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.

AIR—Jordan is a Hard Road to Travel.

Out in Jersey, I declare,
They have some fellows there,
Whose devotion to the Union is called in question.
They had better stop and learn,
Or the Boys, when they return,
Will send them to the other side of Jordan.

Chorus:
And if any in the West
Should try, and think it best,
To check the army's operation,
Why load the Union gun
With very mother's son
And shoot them to the other side of Jordan.

Chorus.

In the absence of the boys
Should the Frenchmen make a noise,
About their Foreign Intervention,
Why, the women of the land,
Would take their brooms in hand
And sweep them to the other side of Jordan.

Chorus.

Now stop this foolish strife,
And protect your country's life;
Show the world some better legislation;
If you think you never can;
Why let some decent men
Take your seats in the Councils of the Nation

Chorus.

500 Illustrated Ballads lithographed and printed by
CHARLES MAGNUS, No. 12 Frankfort Street, New York,
Branch Office, No. 520 7th St., Washington, D. C.